

Program for “A Day of Constructive Journalism”

Wednesday, March 13th 2019

Vilnius University, Faculty of Communication, 217 room

9.00– 10.30:

The State of The Press and the question of Constructive Journalism.

Why is it necessary for the media to rethink themselves in a reality with falling circulation for newspapers, a decline in shares for news on TV and a growing mistrust in the media?

What is constructive journalism? What good would that do – if any?

Questions and discussion.

Ulrik Haagerup

Director of Constructive Institute, Aarhus University, Denmark

10.30-10.50: Coffee break

10.50 – 11.30:

How can you do constructive journalism in a digital news room and how can you make use of social media in constructive journalism?

Mette Koue

Editor, Danish Broadcasting Corporation

11.30 – 12.15:

Concrete example from working with constructive journalism in the Norwegian public service, NRK.

Marit Evertsen Grimstad

Editor, Norwegian Public Service Broadcaster

12.30– 13.15: Lunch

13.15 – 13.45:

So how then could you yourself do constructive journalism?

Presentation of different models of constructive journalism.

Orla Borg

Former investigative journalist

Head of fellowship program at Constructive Institute, Aarhus University, Denmark

13.45 – 14.30:

Workshop in small groups. Please bring your computer.

Looking for possible constructive stories in Lithuanian media on this particular day.

What models would you use?

14.30 – 15.20:

Presenting stories with constructive elements for the audience.

15.20-15.30:

Wrap up of the Day of Constructive Journalism.